REL 201
Ancient Biblical Interpretation

The course looks at the origins of biblical interpretation, how the Hebrew Bible was interpreted around the turn of the Common Era, the key formative period for early Christianity and rabbinic Judaism. We consider the nature of interpretation as an endeavor, as well as how the Bible came to be viewed as Scripture. Honors version available.

David Lambert
dalambe@email.unc.edu
Tuesdays and Thursdays
2:00PM-3:15PM

General Education Requirements: LA, WB